Dear Sir

All the Mint property shipped from Phila was safely received here and has been properly cared for. Coining Press with Dies perfectly set is ready to make the Medals as soon as power is furnished. On Saturday night the two Coin Cases were received and this Morning Mr Kemper. Mr McHue and myself opened the box of Coins and found they corresponded with the lists sent as did also the the Medals. I arranged them all in the handsome Cases sent and they make an attractive and very interesting Exhibit. Every thing connected with the Mint Exhibit has given much satisfaction to the Treasury Representative the floor space is ample and the arrangement quite effective. I was much disapointed at not having the power on opening day. I put much effort into my part of getting ready. but beyond that I had no control. The promis of the Electric Power is with us from day to day. But not the Power itself.

If there is any instructions
